I know that:
The fire started in a bakery on Pudding Lane. Ovens and buildings were different in 1666.	Samuel Pepys wrote about the Great Fire of London in his diary. Samuel Pepys is a diarist.	People were very scared. People put their things into carts and boats. People buried their important things. Axes, leather buckers, hooks and water squirts were used to try and stop the fire.	The fire spread because the houses were made of wood and they were close together. There was no fire brigade.	The fire stopped because the weather changed. People helped to put it out. King Charles II wanted to rebuild London. He made a plan to stop another fire from happening. (Wider streets, brick houses)	A long time ago there was a big fire in London. The monarch was Charles II. The fire started in a bakery on Pudding Lane. The fire lasted for four days. The fire stopped because people pulled down some buildings and the weather changed. Much of London was destroyed.
