Dear Parents and Carers,

It gives me great pleasure to share with you the final report following our recent Ofsted inspection, which took place on the 11th and 12th of February 2025. As you will see, it highlights the many strengths of our school and acknowledges the hard work and dedication of our entire school community.

The report celebrates the calm and orderly environment in our classrooms, where pupils act with kindness and respect, diligently following "The St Bart's Way". The inspector found the children to be proud advocates for themselves and others, actively promoting equality.

Our ambitious curriculum continues to strengthen, inspiring pupils to learn more across subjects and to aim high. The inspector noted the success of our "legacy curriculum", which encourages pupils to explore significant individuals and their contributions to society. This approach helps our pupils believe that anything is possible.

The inspector was particularly impressed with our school's vision of "Hand in hand we learn, we grow, we soar," which is evident in all aspects of life at St Bartholomew's. This vision motivates our pupils to be the best version of themselves and to work together as a team. The report commends our pupils for their positive interactions with adults and each other, their academic and personal achievements, and their adherence to high expectations for behaviour and conduct.

We are incredibly proud of our pupils and are grateful for the continued support of you, our parents and carers. Your involvement and encouragement play a crucial role in the success of our school, and we thank you for your unwavering support.

Together, we will continue to strive for excellence and ensure that St Bartholomew's Primary Academy remains a place where each and every child and adult is able to truly learn, grow and soar.

We hope you enjoy reading the report.

Warm regards,

Mr Dan Oakes
